HIS OWN POEMS

Prof. Snow Tells Interested Audience Source of His Inspiration.

One of the most notable events of the late summer season took place Friday evening, when before an audience which nearly filled the auditorium of the Universalist Church Prof. C. Wilbert Snow appeared in the reading of his own poems. Prof. Snow gave his readings in two groups, the first devoted to poems from his already published "The Maine Coast," and the second composed of lyrics as yet unpublished. The following poems were read:

From "The Maine Coast": "The Paving Quarry," George McGoon, "From the Inner Harbor," The Country Dance, "Raking Away the Banking," Postlude, "Cordwood and Driftwood," Advice to a Clam Digger, "The Station," Zeb Kinney on College Professors.

From unpublished poems: "Conflict," "Pioneer, Stay Back, Age, and Mortality."

He also read, in response to insistent applause "Zeb Kinney on Feminism" and "Let Us Study how Spruces Grow."

In opening his first group, Prof. Snow briefly told how that when a small lad he always dreamed of writing pictures, his desire arising from his love of color, but that as he grew older the excessive cost of paints and other materials proved a discouraging factor, and the only means readily open to him to express his love of color was through the lovely pencil in words.

Hence have these rarely beautiful poems, graced with vivid color, keen insight, and singing form. Preceding each poem, Prof. Snow told in an interesting manner how the inspiration for that particular poem came about, and when and how it was written, and he invested each reading with an intimate and personal interest impossible to acquire by individual perusal.

Further interest was added to the evening's program by musical numbers contributed by Miss Elizabeth Knight, violinist, and Miss Evelyn McDougall, pianist. Miss Knight's selections were "Bacchante," by Tschakovsky, and "Love Song," by Cadman, played in a thoroughly delightful manner. Miss Alceda Hall of Thomaston accompanied Miss Knight in a sympathetic manner.

Miss McDougall gave a group of three—Intermezzo, by Brahms; At Thy Feet, by Grieg, and Norwegian Bridal Procession, by Grieg, demonstrating that she is one of the most brilliant young pianists heard here for some time. She played with authority, ease and a keen sense of expression.

The recital was given under the auspices of the ladies of the ice cream committee of the Universalist Church Fair, of which Mrs. Julia Burpee is chairman. Mrs. Lucia Burpee acted as chairman of the recital and it is felt a deep debt of gratitude is owed her for making it possible to hear Prof. Snow who is one of Maine's own gifted sons.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Gifts of Gold Exceeding $100 Received By Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morris.

Seldom is the privilege granted to a couple who have passed 50 years of married life together to have a happier golden wedding than did Capt. and Mrs. E. L. Morris when Tuesday at their attractive home at 375 Old County road they observed the passing of the fiftieth milestone of their wedded life. They kept "open house" and all day long callers came to offer their congratulations and extend wishes that many more years of happiness come to them. So many callers came, in fact, that at times they overflowed the house.

But the happiest factor of the occasion was the homecoming of all the children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Capt. and Mrs. Morris were blessed with five children, who today are Mrs. Luella Curry of Rockland, Mrs. Nevetta Foster of Crenlin, Colo., Mrs. Beatrice Chaples of Rockland, Capt. Caleb L. Morris of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Frieda Dietrich of Scotch Plains, N. J. There are 12 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. With the families and many other relatives thrown in for good measure, it was a jolly and happy gathering, one to be long remembered by all present.

Many valuable presents were received by Capt. and Mrs. Morris, among them being purses of gold amounting to over $100. Countless cards were also received, as well as letters, flowers and other remembrances of the occasion. Victrola music enlivened the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich presided over the refreshment table.

COLE TROPHY GOLF

Annual Cup Contest In Progress At Rockland Country Club.

The annual golf contest for the Cole trophy is in full swing at the Country Club, the 16 contestants who qualified having played their first 18 hole match yesterday with this result:

F. C. Dyer defeated Walter S. Rounds, 2 up 1; E. K. Leighton defeated W. A. Spear, 4 up 2; E. S. Levensaler defeated Walter A. Ladd, 1 up; Standish Perry defeated H. E. Robinson, 1 up; A. W. Foss defeated William Wood, 2 up; B. F. Mathews defeated H. F. Mann, 6 up; A. F. Lamb, defeated H. A. Buffum, 7 up; A. C. Jones defeated E. K. Toner, 5 up.

The Dyer-Rounds contest was a very pretty one, running to 26 holes before a decision was reached.

The semi-finals will be played tomorrow and the finals on Saturday. The recent heavy rains have left the fairways heavy and the greens somewhat interfering with small scores, but beautiful weather smiles upon the contest and happiness reigns.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Union Fair plans are in the making.

Mrs. Hiram Young's attractive new residence on Rankin street is nearly ready for occupancy. A garage is attached to the house.

The Thomaston Royal Arch Chapter has work Friday night. One of the candidates is George Wood, local agent of the Tylol Company.

Alan L. Bird's new residence on the side of Dodge's Mountain will be completed in about three weeks, and the family will occupy it before the season closes.

The thrilling melodrama "Cobra" is being given at Lakewood Theatre, Skowhegan, this week. Next week Cohen's sweethearts "The Showdowns and a Girl" will be the attraction.

It will be "Bonnet Night" at Strand Theatre tonight, when two of the latest millinery creations from Coney & May's hat shop, will be presented. Friday night will be Amateur Night.

Frank Thompson, day clerk at the Thorndike Hotel is back at the desk, having spent a few days at his Lewiston home. He attended the State Fair Monday and wasn't at all lonesome as there were 29,999 others there.

The annual caddies' tournament at the Country Club was won by Rodney Murphy by a score of 48. The runner-up was Frank Mazzeo, scoring 46. Bruno Mazzeo was the winner of the smaller boys division, with a score of 58.

There will be a meeting of Golden Rod Chapter, O. E. S. Friday evening at 7:30. A matter of importance will be discussed. Circle supper at 6:30. Mrs. Milton Griffin chairman, requests those not solicited to furnish sweet food.

Most folks are glad to get rid of trouble, but not so the family of O. Gurdy, whose members are more lonesome than they would care to admit ever since their dog "Trouble" has gone to Montclair, N. J., to make his home with his rightful owner, Janet Keene.

Although Freeman Young has sold his fish market to Nate Saunders, the name of Young's market will continue to be used and the telephone call will be the same. Mr. Saunders had experience in the fish business before the opening of the World War, in which he served.

"Clerk of Courts Milton M. Griffin" did the Lewiston State Fair Monday, and did it good and properly. This is what the Goddess of Luck handed him: A box of candy, because he is heavier than he looks. He had a bird cage, a canary bird and two nice blankets. The Midway didn't make much money off that gentleman.

Jasper Rawley, The Courier-Gazette's make-up man, doesn't lay any particular claim to being a high grade or horny handed farmer, but he raises double jointed cucumbers just as easily as he does single ones. Yesterday he exhibited a real curiosity at the office in the form of a double-jointed cucumber with a leaf growing from the spine of one section of it.

Friday night, Sept. 16, is the date for the next sparring exhibition, and the fans will be pleased to know that Frank Rossi of Lynn is coming here for another bout with Johnny Seely of South Boston. They fought here some months ago and created a sensation, to put it mildly. Al Wilson, hero of the last exhibition, will appear in the semi-finals with Rip Van Dyke of Portland and there will be two other classy bouts.

"Pat" French, who gave to Rockland a championship baseball team this season, and who shone brilliantly as an outfielder and batter prior to his surgical operation, has resumed his duties as athletic director at Lewiston High School. He finds his football squad pretty well shot to pieces, but it will doubtless give a good account of itself before the wily Pat gets through with the boys. Rob Walsh, the popular third baseman goes back to Dartmouth for his senior year.

George W. Bacheider's bay trotter Dagostan has been cutting up some fancy capers the past two weeks, winning the 218 State trot at the Central Maine Fair in Waterville and the 218 State trot at the Maine State Fair in Lewiston. The purse at Lewiston was $750. Each victory also gave the Rockland horseman a silver cup. Mr. Bacheider's John Opp was second to Hal Mahon (2014) in the free for all at Bluehill and won third money at Ellsworth. He also won second money with Dolan Watts at Bluehill and Ellsworth. Win Ingraham won third money at Bluehill Wednesday with Mary Montgomery.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

UP-HILL
Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end—dark hours begin,
May not the darkness hide the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting-place?
A roof for when the slow, dark hours begin,
May not the darkness hide the whole long day?
You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those who have gone before,
Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you waiting at their door.

Shall I find comfort, travel-sore and weak?
Of labor who are glad to see me rest?
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yea, beds for all who come.

—Christina Georgina Rossetti.

"LUTCH" STARK, ROTARIAN

Readers of the news reports of the Friday luncheons of the Rockland Rotary Club have had occasion to note the name of "Bill" Stark as a regular visitor during the vacation season. Occasionally the name of "Lutch" Stark also appears. This is father and son, who come north each summer from their home in Orange, Texas, to enjoy at Rockland Breakwater the glories of the Maine Coast. Both are ardent Rotarians and it was through the initial efforts of the younger Stark that the Rockland Club came into being. Both regard themselves as fixtures in the summer life of Rockland and their popularity in particular among Rotarians runs very high. This is by way of introduction to the appended dispatch from Orange printed in the New York Herald Tribune last week:

Few multi-millionaires would be content to live in this "10 o'clock town" of 10,000 population. But it is said that H. J. Stark, who is worth more than $75,000,000 and said to be the wealthiest young man in the state. He is 38 years old and owns a controlling interest in the city, which may account for its attraction to him.

Stark was born here in the extreme southeast corner of the state. Without a cent he would be an interesting figure, but his extensive enterprises have mystified his personality, and even Orange hasn't quite figured him out. He is interested in almost every commercial and industrial project in his part of the state. A few years ago he bought two-thirds of an entire Louisiana parish just across the Sabine river from his home town. It was only a commercial maneuver, a detail to Stark.

His fortune was founded by his grandfather, Henry J. Stark, in the purchase of the great yellow pine forests and creation of a saw mill still in operation. His own father, William H. Stark still living, is worth several millions, almost all of which has been controlled by his son several years. Mrs. Frances Ann Stark, wife of the grandfather, died three years ago. Young Stark, her favorite grandson, was bequeathed the bulk of her fortune, near $20,000,000 worth of bonds, cash and East Texas pine and cut-over land. Her will is still being contested in courts.

"Democratic as an old shoe," Stark is often referred to. For his own use he drives a cheap little car, although he has two imported from England in his garage. When he married Miss Nita Hill of Austin, Tex., his father offered him a mansion, but he preferred to live in a modest two-story, 10-room house. This, however, he furnished lavishly. When he built the Pea Vine golf course at Orange, he set an unprecedented club house on it. This course itself, however, cost about $1,000,000 and is regarded as one of the most beautiful in the South. It was cut out of a dense hardwood and pine forest, largely in a swamp. Although his boathouse on the Gulf of Mexico in Cameron Parish, La., is not as elegant as some, he has thousands of dollars for canals through 75,000 acres of wild bird refuge to reach it.

He has organized a boys' club of several thousand membership, one of the most successful in the United States. Every summer the boys, headed by their brass band, take long tours in specially designed busses. Stark heads a boys' Bible class, attendance being admittance to the club activities.

He owns a large cattle ranch in Colorado, a coal mine in New Mexico and has an interest in a Texas pine sawmill, a paper mill, one of the largest crocheting plants in the state, a cannery, a car and steel plant and he recently sold an electrical power plant for several millions. He controls a bank and has a large interest in a Texas life insurance company.

Stark has interest in the third largest oil field in south Texas and recently brought in a field of his own in Louisiana, 15 miles from Orange. He owns much virgin timber on the Pacific coast, beside one of the largest pieces of virgin yellow pine in Texas, and has been negotiating for a mahogany forest in South America. Recently he endeavored to give an off-hand accounting of his holdings, but his memory failed and he had to call a secretary.

Announcement of the valuable trophies won by Battery F, 24th Coast Artillery, of Thomaston, is not only exceedingly gratifying to the friends of the Thomaston Guardsmen, but directs attention more than anything else could to the high standard of efficiency which the battery has attained under the leadership of Capt. Russell Gray.

THE AFTERMATH OF BASEBALL

Being a Review of Maine Coast League's Second Season—Some Views As To Most Valuable Player.

(By the Official Scorer)

The second season of the Maine Coast League passed into history with Labor Day's grand climax, having afforded the fans of Knox, Waldo and contiguous counties with the finest sport that this section of the State has seen for many years. That it was able to complete the schedule under the tremendous handicap of a "summerless summer" is a tribute to the loyal and generous fans who have gone deep into their purses every time called upon and to the courage of the several boards of directors, who on each Monday night faced the responsibility of paying players' wages to the amount of $450 in each of the three towns.

Perhaps one of the most striking examples of hard luck was that which befell Rockland on its so-called "Dollar Day." Rain fell steadily just before the first game was scheduled to start, but the skies lightened up and it was deemed best to take a desperate chance and play. The storm had killed the crowd, however, and to make matters worse, Rockland played one of the few slovenly games which could be charged against it. News of this fiasco filtered down town, and for the second game, in which it so happens that Rockland proudly redeemed itself. Financially this "Dollar Day" was marked down to "30 cents."

Three men who stood out as bulwarks against the succeeding chapters of hard luck were Horace E. Lamb, president of the League, A. H. Parsons, who directed the financial destinies of the Camden team, and Ralph Darby who occupied a similar position with reference to the Belfast team. Mr. Lamb and the two "Skijs" are entitled to all the praise and all the thanks that a grateful and well served public can bestow. It was "Skip" Darby who went ahead with baseball at Belfast while the snowdrifts were still deep, and it was "Skip" Parsons, who said that Camden should have baseball while a daily newspaper was writing its obituary. Other loyal workers stood shoulder to shoulder with Messrs. Lamb, Parsons and Darby, but their names are too numerous to mention. They are all quite content that the lion's share of the glory should go where it has placed it.

At the outset almost all of the "experts" picked Belfast to win the pennant, but Camden forged so far into the lead that it looked like a runaway. But that team, Rockland, on the other hand, was unable to shake the jinx, and fell so far astern that the "crowd" was in a highly pessimistic mood.

Things were going very badly for us in the box, and Aubie, who had been counted upon as the team's mainstay, either was not in form or was not contented with his surroundings. Be that as it may, the breach widened and eventually he was released. Camden snapped him up, and for a while he went good with that team. The pace was a killing one, however, and he gave way to new men.

Merewether joined Rockland for the fourth of July games, and from that moment Rockland began to look like a new team. As a matter of fact, it looked to me to be the best team as far back as mid-season, with the exception that I felt we were being outclassed in the box. Strecker made a killing in his first game with Rockland, at Belfast, but had his troubles were long. The same was true of French, but to the latter must be given the credit of pitching wonderful ball in that last game that meant the championship. It was Fred Loftus, however, who stood in the breach and who completed the season with a fine string of victories. I had no hesitation about selecting him as one of the two pitchers for the All-League team.

Belfast placed its reliance on two box-men, Chat Davidson and Davidson. The former's work was of such a distinguishing character that few would hesitate about nominating him for first string pitcher in the All-League team.

Camden had a wealth of pitching material, with Klosek and Ferris as the outstanding factors. Klosek went through the season triumphant, but Ferris in the final analysis suffered the vengeance which Rockland had so long and so unexplainedly deferred. To me this young Ferris did not look to be in a class with Elmer Rising, and I often cherished the wish that they might sometime oppose each other, but as that did not come about, and as Ferris was given the credit which he deserved, I am going to give unreservedly the credit which belongs to him. It may interest many fans to know that the real reason for not having Rising was that the team was unable to stand the expense of another pitcher. That he might have been more successful than French or Strecker is something you will have to settle when the winter league meets.

I was a little bit surprised that Hugh Pinkerton should select Kenyon of Belfast as his All-League catcher. I cheerfully concede Bill's good points and that he is a good field general, but in my opinion he could not hold Polly Byrne's glove when it came to heaving the ball to bases, and certainly not when it came to batting. But for Polly's game leg you would have seen many more scores in Rockland's column, but fortunately they were not needed. You perhaps did not notice that base stealing was a "rare avis" when Byrne was behind the bat.

I am going to take the liberty of saying that Walsh, the Rockland third baseman, was the best man in the League for one position. He handled the ball so easily and gracefully that it did not always seem to be a hard chance. His throws to first were magnificent, and his batting was improving by leaps and bounds when the season closed. If only one man of the Rockland team was being returned for next season it would unquestionably be "Bobby" Walsh.

I am now going to say that the most valuable man in the League was Charlie Smail, and for three obvious reasons—that he was the best pitcher, that he was the most dangerous batter (with the possible exception of Byrne) and that he was a splendid outfielder, almost, if not quite, as good as Macklay of Camden.

The best pilot, in my opinion, was Hugh Pinkerton of Camden. Calm, even tempered and courteous, he had few friends and admirers all over the circuit. He watched the game like an eagle and was always encouraging his players. Some managers seem to think that the abuse of players is the insignia of a good coach, but I found Pinkerton's style a welcome relief, and I hope he will be down this way again next season.

"Bill" Kenyon would be my choice for captain. He, too, is a strategist, and works for every point.

It gives me a good deal of personal satisfaction to be able to say that the two Knox County boys, Charlie Wotton and Buck Ogier were two of the best men in the League, and, as you may already have noted, I picked them for my All-League team. Wotton has done some wonderful stunts at first base, and has started not a few scoring rallies. Ogier was one of the best outfielders in the League, and the home crowd was always pleased to see him come to bat in a pinch.

There is one other point which I want to emphasize and that is the prowess which some fans have for being suspicious. It is true that Rockland had a bad batting slump near the end of the season, and that the players seemed at times to be lazy or indifferent. This period followed "Pat" French's experience in the hospital, and he seemed to be as much affected as the men. But if I picked them for my All-League team, Wotton has done some wonderful stunts at first base, and has started not a few scoring rallies. Ogier was one of the best outfielders in the League, and the home crowd was always pleased to see him come to bat in a pinch.

I remember of being on the Camden bench at Belfast one day when an elderly man came and said, "Well, they want to know down town whose turn it is to win today."

The seed of suspicion which breeds often among the unthinking and those who are easily led, had been at work. The sequel to the incident was that the game was a tie, and that the suspicious ones did not have an opportunity to say "I told you so."

Last year I saw every game in the Maine Coast League, and this year I saw all but three which were played in Belfast, and though the side which I favored often lost, I have never seen an occasion where I thought a game was deliberately thrown. Carelessness or laziness may have lost games, but not treachery.

A word for the "umps." McDermott officiated the entire season and stood firm as a rock on what he believed to be the merits of the decision. Twoomey, who came for the closing games was also a star in that line.

As usual, when there is salaries baseball (and such good baseball as we saw) there is a deficit at the end of the season—a deficit which would have been quite ponderous but for the splendid Labor Day crowds. The happy lesson which is to be drawn from the season is, however, that with anything like decent weather all three teams would probably have come out with balanced books. This means or ought to mean that the promoters of good sport will be emboldened to make another start next year. Don't let your enthusiasm get winter killed. Boost baseball every month from now until June 1928, then boost some more.

But this article has already gone into extra innings, so I will call the game.

FIRE AT SOUTH WARREN

Fine Stand of Buildings Owned By Maurice Martin Burned To The Ground.

Fire destroyed the so-called Samuel Creighton farm buildings at South Warren Tuesday afternoon with a loss close to $10,000, according to the new owner of the property Maurice Martin of Friendship who had but recently completed repairs and renovation preparatory to occupying them. The fire was caused by the backing of a truck in a shed and gained great headway before the arrival of engines from Warren and Thomaston. Due to the absence of water they were able only to protect surrounding property. The blaze was spectacular and attracted a large crowd as the buildings were located just off the main road near the Grange Hall, South Warren.

PARK THEATRE

Bebe Daniels in "Swim Girl, Swim" will have its last showing today.

Do you like the glitter and tinsel of the stage? Do you like sophistication? Or do you prefer simplicity, dignity, philosophy of life? "After Midnight," Norma Shearer's new starring production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, coming Friday and Saturday, contains all of these ingredients. It is a slice of life with life itself in the role of villain. The picture, directed by Monta Bell, was based on the director's own original story, which was later fictionalized by Adele Rogers St. Johns and published in Cosmopolitan Magazine. It is a smart story of two sisters, as unlike as day and night—one, who despite her profession as a cigarette girl in a jazz palace, maintained dignity and decency, the other, a chorus girl who lived for today only, picked her friends at random but made the supreme sacrifice when it became necessary. Lawrence Gray and Gwen Lee are seen with Miss Shearer in this lavish production of modern New York life.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The double feature program for today is "Paying the Price," with Mary Carr, and "Thumbs Down," all-star cast.

The feature for Friday and Saturday is "Thunder," the marvel of "The Silent Avenger." The story combines a great variety of incident and locale affording opportunities for many interesting things. The plot deals with a young college boy who realizes he has been taking advantage of an indulgent father's good nature. To square himself with his dad, the youth ventures to try and close an important right-of-way deal for his father's railroad. Taking his dog pal, "Thunder," the boy hires himself to the mountains of Tennessee. Here he finds a romance and also encounters great opposition to his plans. A rival road is trying to beat him to the deal and finally they resort to unscrupulous methods. How "Thunder" plays an important part in helping the boy put over a deal, winning a bride and outwitting his rivals, forms the basis of the story.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

Kind words and words of praise, are all that you hear in connection with the Tom Carroll show at Strand Theatre this week. If you want a good musical comedy show, refined comedy, tasty costumes and excellent singing they're yours for the price of an admission ticket at this popular amusement house.

The comedians are Tom Carroll, who already had an enviable reputation with Rockland audiences and who could make you laugh if he did nothing more than stand speechless before you. His side partner, Bert Lewis, is also the real goods. Madeline Buckley is the prima donna, having a fine voice and a fine stage presence. A clever dancer is Jimmie Nash and equally clever with the violin is Eddie LeVernie. Joe Baker hands out a good line of specialties. Others prominent in this excellent cast are Dora Cavanaugh, Alice Lewis and Lucille Cameron. As to that chorus of peaches, we leave it to you to say whether the members are not well named.

An entirely new program comes on the boards for tomorrow and Saturday. Now is a good time to order the seats.

"ON MY SET"

Reception was so good Tuesday night that I devoted considerable time to the set. "Crushing the Air" reported seven stations, but I did a little better (as he probably would have later) by logging the following list: KDKA, WPG, WNAC, WTAM, WGN, WEAF, WJZ, WEEI, WOR, WJCA and WGY.

With the major baseball leagues approaching their climax the baseball fans are finding a radio set almost indispensable. Batteries are being overhauled, new tubes are going in and new antennae are being strung in anticipation of Dempsey-Turney bout Sept. 22.

Major J. Andrew White will broadcast a blow-by-blow description of the Dempsey-Turney fight at Chicago, Sept. 22. From the ringside Major White will put the picture of the contest on a direct wire to Station WMAQ. Telephone wires have been contracted for to carry the fight from WMAQ to the chain's key station WOR in New York, and thence to the rest of the network. Major White was the first to broadcast a ring battle six years ago.

BURKETTVILLE

All roads led to Washington Camp-meeting Sunday and nearly every family was represented.

Hazel and Gertrude Esaney have returned from Hope where they have been employed in True's canning factory.

Mrs. Cora Grinnell has been entertaining relatives from Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Will Carter and son of Portland spent the weekend at Henry Turner's.

Minnie Light entertained her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howes and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bullard of Medway, Mass., Tuesday.

Mrs. John Upham is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ruby Hannon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Simmons of Rockland spent Sunday and Monday at N. E. Calderwood's.

Elbridge Fish is in poor health.

Mrs. John Carver of Holiday Beach picked a blue violet Sept. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDonald of Needham, Kansas, are guests of Mrs. Lillian Morton.

Elmer Rising, who has been pitching successfully for the Skowhegan team the past few weeks, is home.

The next race at Knox Trotting Park will be held Sept. 21, and Fred Carlin, secretary of the association, is busy making arrangements.

Austin Richardson saw the 18-inning game between the Yankees and Red Sox in Boston Labor Day, and declares that it was no place for a nervous man.

The prettiest ankle contest at Oakland Park had eight contestants, first prize, a silver urn, going to Mildred Brewer of Revere, Mass., and second prize, a wrist watch, to Elsa D. Stearns of Owl's Head. The judges were Frank B. Miller, C. H. Berry and John Post.

THE SUMMER CONFERENCE

"Can prayer change anything, is what men are asking," said President E. C. Herriek of Newton Theological Institution Tuesday night in his lecture on "Prayer" before the Rockland summer conference.

"Well your prayer can change you. You are a different man when you are through your prayer. The man who rises from his knees a better man has had his prayer already answered."

"Prayer is a custom, but prayer is a communion. Many people have family prayers who do not have family prayer. Too many people make excursions into the universe in their prayers and ask God to forgive Adam David and the Chinese and at the end of a long prayer they say of themselves, 'If we have committed any sins, forgive us.' You can't be stinky with your forgiveness and get by with God."

The most important part of prayer is listening. Instead of trying to talk to God and rushing away as though all God were interested in is to hear us talk, we ought to listen and wait in order to let God talk to us. Make it your daily conviction that God has something new to communicate to you each day."

Disappointment was expressed at the announcement that Dr. Massee has been detained at a Methodist conference in Michigan through a misunderstanding of dates and would not be here. Musical features have included Gounod's "Unfold Ye Portals" and "The Hallelujah Chorus," sung by the full conference choir of 19 voices. The Camden male quartet and the Cecilia sextet are also on the program. The solos by Mrs. E. C. Herriek, wife of Dr. Herriek, have made her very popular with the audience.

The dove of peace was in his usual place at last night's meeting of the City Council, a list of business being transacted in short order. All departments are functioning smoothly as the administration swings down the home stretch. City Clerk E. R. Keene was ordered to take a month's vacation to recruit his health, as ordinary requests failed to keep that courteous and zealous official from his desk.

"Controversy is good for the church," said Prof. J. G. Machen on the fourth day of the session. "God spare the church when all controversy and debate shall be ruled out of the church in the name of efficiency. Every period of advancement with its flood of light has been preceded by a period of turmoil in which men were asking the basic question: 'What is true? where are we going?'

"The first of the year will see some interesting changes at Rankin block. If the plans now being discussed materialize. A new A. & P. store will have the quarters now occupied by Mike Amata's clothing store. Brown's Confectionery Store will transfer to the section of the block now occupied by the Eastern Dairies, Inc., which will then move into its new quarters the opposite side of the street. The store vacated by Mr. Brown will be occupied by the First National.

About noon yesterday this city saw and heard a huge three-engine monoplane advertising a cigarette. The big plane circled overhead several times, flying at considerable altitude, but the remarkable part of the performance was the distinctness with which the voice of the announcer reached his hearers, scattered over an area of several miles. This was brought about by a new invention which is destined to make a great name for itself, the device taking the words or songs of the announcer and magnifying them several thousand times, yet keeping the pleasing inflections and avoiding harsh metallic sounds. The incident was a chief subject of conversation, coming as it did during radio reports of Old Glory's plight.

That Rockland is becoming more and more popular and the demand for metropolitan accommodations is increasing rapidly is manifested by the active proceedings at the corner of School and Union streets, where Mrs. Ava Lawry, the ever active manager and owner of "The Copper Kettle" and "The Laurie" is making a most substantial addition to the building formerly called "The Laurie Annex" and recently renamed "The Laurieette." The addition consists of four apartments each having a large living room, bed room, kitchenette and bath. They are to be completely furnished for housekeeping, most attractively homelike and convenient. Two apartments have already been leased and indications are that they are to be in popular demand for the winter season as well as the summer. When the handsome new sign artistically designed by Charles Emery is swung into place and a new coat of paint reclaims the whole building it will indeed be a corner worthy of notice and a credit to the locality.

The smiling skies and moderate temperature of yesterday helped make the Davies Memorial Ouing, closing event of Children's Play ground, a happy success. The picnic was held at Ingraham Hill Beach, transportation being furnished via trolley through the courtesy of Supt. Charles E. Gregory. The Beachites extended the youngsters every attention and Scout Executive John W. Thompson was in charge of the commissary assisted by Scouts Norman Connon, Charles Eicknell, MacNeil Brown and Linwood Aylward. Attendance prizes for the season fell in the same family, that of Sheriff F. F. Harding, his daughter Emma receiving the bathing suit and her brother James the Scout watch. The real surprise of the day was on Director Pauline McLean Rogers when Shirley McIntire in behalf of the Playground family, presented her with a small gift of gold, none the less appreciated because of its size. This concludes an outstandingly successful playground season with over 700 separate children registered from eleven states.

ROCKPORT
Mrs. D. A. Whitmore, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. R. W. Studley of Glenview, visited relatives in Vinal Haven Tuesday.

Miss Grace Smith of Waltham, Mass., is spending a few weeks in town.

Mrs. Ida Shibles of Rockland is spending a few days at her home on Beach street.

Miss Lorena Berry who has been visiting relatives in town has returned to Boston.

Mrs. Maria Heath of Revere, Mass., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Augusta Shibles.

Mrs. Jessie Dolham of Rockland spent Tuesday at the home of her brother Charles Prince.

Mrs. Elsie Gilbert who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Anna J. Gardiner, returned Saturday to Woburn, Conn., accompanied by Miss Daisy Zug of Lebanon, Pa., who was her guest for several days.

Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Bishop of Brunswick were guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Wilson Monday at the Moody parsonage.

Ernest Heald has returned to Lebanon, N. H., where he has resumed teaching after a brief visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Heald.

Miss Hanna Lindgren of Philadelphia was the guest of Mrs. Ernest Torrey Monday.

Misses Edith and Ruth Page who have been spending the summer with their grandmother, Mrs. O. E. Page, left Tuesday for York Beach, where they will be guests of their uncle, Dr. Hartstein W. Page.

Miss Beulah Lane has returned from Marshall's Island where she has been for a few weeks and is teaching in Thomaston.

Dr. Raymond Everett, Charles Everett, Misses Della and Louise Everett and Miss Constance Nelson of Waltham, Mass., spent Labor Day at the Everett cottage on Spear street.

Mrs. A. F. Leigh of Randolph and

"If the church could spread the gospel over the country," said Pres. E. C. Herriek, "the way gasoline filling stations and beauty shops have been spread over the United States, we would now be within the kingdom of God." Condemning modern gluttony, Dr. Herriek said, "One of the most serious problems in many minds is how to fill and reduce at the same time. I wondered what Jesus would say at the gluttony and vanity manifested at so many church suppers if he were on earth today. If we only gave as much time to the daily culture of our souls as we do to our bodies we might know less perhaps about physical beauty and more about the beauty of the kingdom of God."

The tired mother who in the kitchen prepares the meal is the answer to the children's morning prayer, Give us this day our daily bread. Jesus is with her in the kitchen."

President Herriek today conducts a round table and a question box for students and lay workers. Prof. Robertson continues with the fifth and sixth of his series of expository lectures on the epistle of St. James.

Executive Secretary J. S. Pendleton of Waterville yesterday brought greetings from the United Baptist Convention of Maine. The well-known singer, Rev. F. M. Lamb, of Waterville, presided at the solos. Rev. Benjamin P. Brown, chairman, announced the resolutions committee as Rev. J. L. Wilson, Rockport, Rev. E. M. Holman, Camden, Rev. H. H. Bishop, Brunswick, Rev. L. R. Campbell, Dexter and Rev. Harry L. Clark, Portland.

The Closing Sessions
This afternoon Dr. J. G. Machen gives his final address and Dr. Robertson speaks on "The Tongue." Tonight Dr. Robertson speaks on "Wisdom and War." Prof. Stephen A. Haboush, dressed in the native costume of a Galilean, speaks on "My Shepherd Life in Galilee" an interpretation of the 23rd Psalm. Prof. Haboush's story lecture is being brought out in book form by Harper Bros. Music will be furnished by the Cecilia Ladies' Double Trio.

Friday night, besides the speakers, the Camden Male Quartet will sing, "Thou I Speak With Tongues," by Greene; "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," by Gould-Robinson; "Secret Prayer," by Gabriel; "God Is Love," by Flo-tow-Holden. The members of the quartet are: Sophocles Constantine and Joseph Brewster, basses.

The closing service of the conference will be on Friday night and preparations are under way for making it the greatest service of the series.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Whitmore and daughter Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. and daughters Mildred and Margaret attended the annual reunion of the Whitmore family Monday at Seven Tree Pond, Warren.

Porter-Fish
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Grotton, Camden road, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Sunday evening when their daughter, Eva B. was united in marriage to Carlton H. Porter of Rockland. The double ring service was impressively performed at 8.30 by Rev. J. L. Wilson of the Baptist Church, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The decorations were very attractive and the bride party stood beneath an arch of green from which was suspended the wedding bell. The bride attendants were Miss Lillian Brann as maid of honor and Miss Charlotte Roberts and Miss Mary Brann bridesmaids.

Arthur Grotton, brother of the bride was best man. The party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, pleasingly rendered by Miss Clara Walker.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the ring bearer was little Miss Eleanor Rosalie Fish, carrying them in pink rose. The bride was becomingly gowned in pink satin with trimmings of velvet ribbon to match, and carried a bouquet of white gladioli. The maid of honor and bridesmaids carried asters of different colors.

A reception followed the ceremony during which Miss Heistad sang very sweetly "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Miss Walker. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Ronco.

The bride is one of Rockport's most attractive young women, of pleasing personality, and a graduate of Rockport High School, class of 1920. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter of Waldoboro, a young man of sterling worth.

Edward Ames and Richard Ames went to Washington Campmeeting Sunday.

Rain, rain, and more rain; good fishing weather, but poor weather for corn and beans. Well as the old saying, we will have to do as they do in Spain—let it rain, but sometimes we just wish it wouldn't.

George Peabody is kept busy these days manufacturing bushel boxes for the marketers. He is also sending a lot of varieties of green stuff to market.

Charles Sale and Robert Gushue are also busy marketing.

Several from this place attended Waterville fair among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, Harry, Ross and Florence Gushue.

Harrick has a summer home at Ash Point where Mr. Ames' field of summer work is located in the little Baptist Chapel there.

Housan Answere the young man from India who spoke at Appleton Baptist church and other places in Maine is a young man of marked ability and education. He is a graduate of a college in California and now a student at Newton, Mass., and was converted through a high educational knowledge of God and Am-ericanism. How can we speak, but in praise of these institutions. We wish every man from those foreign lands could be thus educated and become an Americanized Christian. Knowledge of God and United States laws is power.

SPRUCE HEAD

A welcome surprise to the teachers at the Grammar and High School building as well as the young generation of the work done under the charge of the trustees of the Academy fund during the summer vacation. These repairs costing about $400 include new paint in the Grammar school-room entry and High School recitation room, a new Clarion furnace for the High School and newly painted seats in both classrooms. This outlay in addition to that of over $300, made three years ago should mean much to the taxpayers, since it comes from the Academy funds, administered by the board of trustees, and is a consequent saving on taxes.

Some of the younger generation do not know the High School building is maintained out of the above named fund and the town furnishes only the seats, fuel, electric current and janitor service. The installation of the electrical fixtures was the gift of Robert J. Andrews, one of the trustees, and a proved of inestimable help to both teachers and students.

SWAN'S ISLAND

Ira Torrey, 55, died Aug. 29, Mr. Torrey had been a great sufferer for several months. He was generally liked by all who knew him and will be greatly missed in the community. He was a Spanish War veteran; also a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge. Besides a widow, Mrs. Fannie Torrey, he leaves a brother, Levi Torrey of Tenants Harbor.

Mrs. Alden Joyce of Rockland spent the weekend at Swan's Island.

Mrs. Carlton Joyce was obliged to go to Rockland where an operation was performed on her hand.

Mrs. Nelson Morse and daughters who have been in Rockland for a few weeks are at home again.

Mrs. Oscar Knight and Mrs. Katrina Baum of Rockland visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith last week.

Mrs. Harold Page of Atlantic has gone to Knox Hospital for an appendicitis operation.

Orin Millan and granddaughter Betty Snell of Portland with Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Granville Prock at Lincolnville.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Smith of Presque Isle are visiting Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Dora Smith.

ORFF'S CORNER

Maurice Engley of Reading, Mass., was a visitor Tuesday at C. J. Achorn's.

Mrs. Addie Achorn has closed her home and returned to Dorchester, Mass., for the winter. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Henry Meyer and family who have spent the summer here.

Charles Ludwig has returned to North Grafton after spending the summer at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ludwig returned to Alton Thursday after a few days visit with his father, Orman F. Ludwig. Miss Louise Leonard returned with them and will be their guest for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coolbroth, daughter Eleanor and William Long of Tenants Harbor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stetson of Thomaston and Freeman Peaslee of Rockland were visitors Sunday at Kenneth Elwell's.

Joseph Simmons, Mrs. Rinna Andrews, Emerson, Murphy, Philip Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Orman Hopkins, all of Tenants Harbor and Melvin Hopkins of Westbrook were at Albert Elwell's Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Elwell, Calvin Elwell and Rose Elwell are spending the week in Elmore.

Mrs. Adeline Hoak celebrated her 58th birthday Sept. 2 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sanford Walter Hoak and had as a guest one of her old neighbors, Mrs. Nora Hoak. One of Mrs. Hoak's most prized gifts was a very beautiful bouquet of gladioli from the garden of Mrs. Charles Rowe at the village.

The offer of a flag and the fixtures for a staff was recently made by the Community Association by Mr. Taylor, who is a summer resident here. It was unanimously voted to accept the generous offer and a suitable staff will be erected on the Community House grounds in the near future.

The entertainment at the Community House Wednesday evening was largely attended and the splendid program showed much real talent. Receipts of the evening amounted to $32 which will be used for repairs on the church. Real credit is due Miss Madelyn Ralph who did so much to make the affair a success.

There was no preaching service at the church Sunday due to the fact that the new pastor has not yet arrived. Mr. Roeder who has served this church the last three months has returned to Boston to resume his college work.

No wringing to do.. no water to empty

This new EASY WASHER saves you work in many amazing new ways

THE New Easy Washer does away with a wringer. It extracts the water from clothes by means of a wonderful new drying tub that takes a full eight-sheet batch at one time. Just move a lever—the drying tub does the rest. In three minutes the clothes are ready to hang out—so dampdry that even the heavy seams will not drip water.

Think of it—no more danger of catching fingers. No more worry about the children's safety. No more broken buttons. No more deep wrinkles in clothes. Less sewing and ironing.

And more—you don't fuss with a hose or strain your back lifting pails of water to empty the Easy Washer. All water is handled for you.

Two things done at once

The New Easy has a big capacity, which is adjustable for small loads. The washtub holds eight double sheets or the equal in other clothes. So does the drying tub. Both tubs work at once, and by thus washing and drying at the same time, the Easy cuts the job right in half. That's why you are never hurried despite the amazing speed with which the New Easy does a complete washing.

So many modern features

Blankets, quilts, feather pillows, and similar bulky objects are easily washed and dried in the New Easy. The famous Vacuum Cups and the new drying tub are just as gentle with the clothes as your own careful hands. A special gas heater keeps the water hot indefinitely. A "reservoir system" of oiling saves you all mess and trouble by automatically carrying oil to the working parts. There is no old-fashioned leather belt to slip or break. There is even an automatic starting and stopping switch that prevents fuses from blowing. As smoothly and quietly as a fine motor car does the New Easy run, and it lasts for years and years.

FREE-ONE WEEK'S WASHING
Don't miss this Special Offer

In order to help advertise the New Easy we are going to do your week's washing free. We are making this special offer because the Easy is so new, so different, that you can't realize how wonderful it is until you see it in action—in your own home. Our demonstrators are covering each residential section as rapidly as possible. Soon they should reach your home. You need not wait, however. Phone today to any of the stores listed below and you can have your demonstration ahead of the neighbors on your usual washday.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

The cash price is only a little more than that of old-fashioned washers. Small enough when it means clean clothes for the rest of your life; when it gives you washdays free from toil and weariness; when it keeps you fresh, youthful and happy. If you wish to purchase the Easy over a period of months, you can arrange the payments to suit your purse, with a nominal charge for this service.

Here you can see how the Easy gets its speed. One tub for washing, another for drying, and they both work at once. The dryer basket in the small tub will hold a full eight-sheet load.

Also furnished with gasoline motor. For homes without electricity the New Easy is available with a built-in gasoline motor, interchangeable with the electric motor.

Here's how the Easy empties the water for you, electrically, without your using a bucket to lift or carry a single drop.

You can even wash and dry pillows in the New Easy, without removing the feathers.

Sixty times a minute the Easy's three famous Vacuum Cups move up and down, gently flushing soap and water back and forth through the fabric by air pressure and suction.

PRIZE CONTEST

Win a New Easy Washer this Month

To the reader of this advertisement who helps us with a new headline we will give a brand new Easy Washer absolutely free. The headline of this advertisement is "No wringing to do... No water to empty." After reading the text, can you suggest a new and better headline?

No special writing skill is required. Your chance is as good as anyone's. In case of a tie, each winning contestant will receive a New Easy.

The winning headline will be selected by the George Batten Company, Inc., Advertising Agent. Contest closes at midnight September 30, 1927. Within ten days thereafter the New Easy Washer will be shipped prepaid to the winner, and each contestant will receive a letter announcing the result. Mail the coupon below or write a letter.

Justin Ames of Warren, who has recently returned from Sarasota, Fla., and is at present located in Friendship, was a caller at The Courier-Gazette office Tuesday. He enjoyed Florida while winter lasted, but when the Old Haymaker began to get in its work Mr. Ames felt the effects of it so vividly that he began to lose weight rapidly and yearn for the North. Motoring homeward the car broke down at Gettysburg, but instead of being looked upon as a mishap was regarded as a stroke of good fortune for it afforded Mr. and Mrs. Ames an opportunity to inspect the battlefield, where all of the 8 rates have monuments, some over 100 feet high. Mr. Ames visited Little Round Top, drank from Spangler's Spring and made the usual rounds that Gettysburg tourists do.

The fog signal at Heron Neck was sounded 27 hours during July, 204 in August and up to 10 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 4, 59 hours.

Mrs. Arthur Pond of Taunton, Mass., and Mrs. Isabella Vaber, Springfield, Mass., who have been spending a week at Heron Neck Light Station, returned to their homes Saturday and report being much pleased with their first visit to Maine. They came all the way to Rockland over the Ocean Drive by auto. Mrs. Pond and Mrs. Robbins became acquainted over the radio nearly four years ago through station WJAR. The visitors speak in highest terms of praise of the hospitality shown them by all the Maine people with whom they came in contact, and plan to come again next summer. Especially do they thank Capt. Oscar Lawry for his kindness in telling them of the points of interest on the route from Rockland to Vinahaven.

Budweiser Real. Hop Malt Syrup

It takes more than loud talk to make malt like BUDWEISER

It takes plant facilities for cleaning, grading, malting, extracting and blending such as are enjoyed by Anheuser-Busch!

It takes Anheuser-Busch experience—the experience of more than 70 years as America's foremost maltsters!

It means paying an extra price to secure the finest hops and barleys grown at home and abroad!

It means doing (as very few malt manufacturers do) all malting from the original barley in our own plants instead of buying any partially-processed ingredients from outside sources—ingredients which may be good, bad or indifferent.

And finally, it means backing up the finished product with a name and trade-mark that has meant top-quality the world over for more than 70 years!

IS A HEALTHIER STRONGER GIRL

Because She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The fertile valleys of Oregon help to supply the tables of America.

In one of the canning establishments, Julia Schmidt was employed. It was complicated work because she did sealing and other parts of the work.

It was strenuous work and she was not a strong girl. Often she forced herself to sit at her machine. At times she would have to stay at home for she was so weak she could hardly walk. For five years she was in this weakened condition.

She tried various medicines. At last, a friend of hers spoke of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Miss Schmidt gave it a trial.

"Everyone says I am a healthier and stronger girl," she writes, "I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends who tell me how they suffer and I am willing to answer letters from women asking about it."

Julia Schmidt's address is 113 Willow St., Silverton, Oregon. For sale by all druggists.

Here's something really good!
Butter Cakes made with Norman R Flour

3 cups Norman R Flour 1 tspn. salt
1/2 cups soda 1/2 cups sour or buttermilk.
1/2 tspn. baking-powder

Sift together twice the Norman R flour, soda, baking powder and salt. Then mix lightly with enough of the milk to moisten. Turn out on a floured board and knead. Roll thin and cut round. Bake on a well-greased griddle at least eight minutes. Tear apart and drop a piece of butter in each cake. Serve hot.

And notice how light and fluffy they are—how fine grained. That's from using Norman R Flour. This fine flour is made from the wheat hearts only of the best soft winter grain.

You'll be sure of the best results with your baking—bread, biscuits or pastry—if Norman R is the flour
